Enhanced institutional safeguards

The following provisions strengthen the operational reading of this policy and apply together with the preceding rules.

Authority and representation controls

No member, ambassador, office-holder, volunteer, partner or contractor may bind MYCDIC, make commitments in its name, issue credentials, promise funding, accept legal obligations, or present personal views as an institutional position unless the authority is documented and current.

Titles, badges, cards, email addresses and public profiles evidence only the status shown in the live MYCDIC record. They must not be used to imply diplomatic immunity, governmental authority, consular powers, state accreditation or any status not expressly granted by the competent authority.

Conflict of interest, gifts and improper advantage

Covered persons must disclose actual, potential and perceived conflicts before participating in a decision, procurement, selection, partnership, evaluation, disciplinary matter or financial transaction.

Bribes, facilitation payments, secret commissions, kickbacks and any improper advantage are prohibited. Gifts or hospitality that could reasonably influence judgment must be declined or declared under the applicable approval process.

Information security and institutional records

Confidential, personal, financial, security, credential, investigation and unpublished strategic information must be handled only through approved systems and shared on a need-to-know basis.

Official records must not be altered, fabricated, backdated, selectively deleted or moved to personal accounts to evade oversight. Where a controlled register exists, the live register prevails over screenshots, forwarded files or private copies.

Safeguarding and non-retaliation

Harassment, intimidation, exploitation, coercion, discrimination, sexual misconduct, abuse of authority and retaliation against a person who raises a concern in good faith are prohibited.

Where safety, safeguarding, evidence preservation or institutional integrity requires it, MYCDIC may apply proportionate interim measures without treating those measures as a final finding.

Interpretation and hierarchy

This policy must be read with the statutes, internal regulations, approved decisions, privacy rules, safeguarding controls and other applicable MYCDIC instruments. Applicable law always prevails where it imposes a higher or mandatory standard.

If two internal rules conflict, the competent governance body determines the controlling rule, taking account of legal hierarchy, date, scope and the specific decision involved.

Institutional loyalty and responsible dissent

Members must protect the Council from fraud, misuse, reputational manipulation and unauthorized representation while retaining the right to raise genuine concerns through protected channels. Internal disagreement must not be converted into false public claims or misuse of confidential information.

Public statements and political neutrality

Institutional platforms may support public-interest dialogue and policy literacy, but representatives must not use MYCDIC titles or resources to endorse a party, candidate or partisan campaign unless a formally approved institutional decision clearly authorizes a lawful activity.

Digital conduct and identity

Passwords, access codes, MFA credentials, member files and administrative access are personal security responsibilities. Credential sharing, bypassing access controls, impersonation, scraping protected data or attempting to gain permissions beyond one's role is misconduct.

Disciplinary consequences

Possible measures include guidance, corrective training, written warning, restriction of duties, temporary suspension, withdrawal of access, removal from an assignment, termination of membership or referral to a competent authority where required by law. Measures must be proportionate to risk, evidence and seriousness.

Accountability, records and continuing obligations

A person who leaves a role remains responsible for confidentiality, return of Council property, non-misuse of credentials and cooperation with legitimate record-preservation or investigation requirements concerning activity during their mandate.

MYCDIC may amend procedures, forms and technical controls without changing the underlying effective date of this institutional edition, provided that substantive policy amendments are approved through the competent governance process.

Acknowledgement

Participation in MYCDIC activities constitutes a duty to read and comply with the instruments applicable to the relevant role. Where acknowledgement is required, electronic acceptance, signed forms, onboarding records or controlled administrative logs may be used as evidence of receipt.

Institutional Application Annex

DOCUMENT

Code Of Conduct

INSTITUTIONAL USE NOTE

This annex expands how the existing controlled document should be applied within MYCDIC. It does not silently replace the core text. Where the underlying document contains legal, statutory, registration, appointment or other authoritative wording, that original wording remains controlling unless a separately approved instrument expressly amends it.

Operational principles

Authority & scope

Use the document only within the mandate, office, programme or activity to which it actually applies. No publication or title may be read as conferring diplomatic, governmental or legal authority that MYCDIC does not possess.

Decision records

Material approvals, delegations, exceptions and risk decisions should be traceable to an authorized office, a dated record and an identifiable institutional reference.

Integrity & safeguarding

Apply conflict-of-interest, confidentiality, dignity, anti-harassment, data minimization and safeguarding standards proportionately to the activity and the people involved.

Public communication

External statements, branding, media activity and partner references should be accurate, reviewable and consistent with approved institutional positions and published records.

Category-specific implementation expectations

- Concerns should be triaged by seriousness, safeguarding impact, legal sensitivity, conflicts of interest and immediate risk rather than by seniority or visibility.
- Fact-finding should distinguish allegation, evidence, response and decision, while limiting disclosure to people with a legitimate need to know.
- Interim safeguards may be used where proportionate, but should not be presented as final findings before review is complete.
- Decisions should identify the applicable rule, relevant evidence, reasoning, authorized decision-maker and any corrective or follow-up action.
- Retaliation against good-faith reporting or participation in review processes should be treated as an integrity concern in its own right.
- Records should support accountability while respecting confidentiality, data minimization and the rights of affected persons.

Control, Review & Digital Validation

Governance lifecycle

Apply

Use the document in the approved institutional context and identify the responsible office or role.

Record

Keep proportionate evidence of significant approvals, decisions, incidents, exceptions and outcomes.

Review

Reassess the document when law, institutional structure, risk, technology, mandate or operating practice materially changes.

Publish

Where publication is appropriate, expose only the public version and keep sensitive operational records separated.

Evidence and institutional recordkeeping

A controlled MYCDIC record should identify the applicable document version, decision owner where relevant, date, affected programme or office, and any evidence necessary to demonstrate responsible implementation. Public records must not disclose confidential personal data, private applicant material, security credentials, or information whose publication would create unnecessary risk.
