About this edition

MYCDIC Academy

Programme design, participation evidence and responsible credential statements.

This revised reference explains the Council's public operating approach as of 4 November 2026. It is not a legal amendment, appointment instrument, government accreditation, audit certification, or a replacement for an independently authenticated source. Earlier digitally signed files remain available as historical editions.

SECTION 01

Learning purpose

The Academy supports practical learning in international cooperation, leadership, public communication and institutional practice. Courses should describe the skills they intend to build and the evidence required for completion.

- Publish learning outcomes and the relevant prerequisites.
- Identify the host, instructor and any external partner accurately.
- Do not claim university equivalence or external accreditation unless independently established.

SECTION 02

Delivery and assessment

Training may be online, in person or blended. Completion rules should distinguish attendance from assessed achievement.

- Keep a reproducible record of enrolment, participation and assessment where relevant.
- Explain the difference between attendance, completion and certification.
- Offer accessible materials and support to multilingual participants.

SECTION 03

Certificates and verification

A digital verification reference can confirm the identity of a MYCDIC-issued record; it must not be presented as a validation from an unrelated institution.

- Issue unique references through the authorised document workflow.
- Allow the issuing office to correct or revoke a certificate where justified.
- Respect student privacy and limit published data.
